Department Description

The City Attorney's Office serves San Diego as the chief legal advisor and misdemeanor prosecutor. The City Attorney's Office is divided into four divisions: Administration, Civil, Criminal, and Information Systems. The primary operations of the Office occur in the Criminal and Civil Divisions. The City Attorney's Criminal Division prosecutes misdemeanors committed within the City of San Diego. These include violations of State and local laws, child abuse, theft offenses, sex crimes, gang and graffiti crimes, zoning and building code violations, consumer and environmental crimes, quality-of-life crimes and many others. The City Attorney's Civil Division provides legal services to the City of San Diego. Advisory attorneys provide legal guidance to the Mayor, Council, and City departments. Litigation attorneys defend the City against lawsuits and also pursue litigation when money is owed to the City.

Milestones Met/Services Provided

In 2001, the City Attorney's Civil and Criminal Division staff provided the citizens of San Diego with quality legal work, focusing on proactive, early intervention strategies with a commitment to community outreach.

Attorneys and investigators in the City Attorney's Civil Enforcement Unit recovered $792,500 for damaged City property and water bill delinquencies. The civil construction contract litigation group recovered $750,000 for the City in a case involving disputed charges on a sewer project.

The Civil Division provided a legal team to support the formation and operation of the Mayor's Ethics Commission. At the onset of the proposal in January 2001, the City Attorney's Office was closely involved by creating the charter documents, drafting complaint and investigation procedures, and advising at hearings.

In October 2001, City Attorney Casey Gwinn, in partnership with Police Chief David Bejarano, unveiled the concept of a San Diego Family Justice Center. This one-of-a-kind Center will consolidate the San Diego Police Department's and City Attorney's Domestic Violence units. The Center will house police detectives, prosecutors, forensic medical personnel, social workers, and victim advocates to meet the needs of domestic violence victims and their children. The goal is to bring San Diego's resources to the victim as opposed to the victim having to seek help throughout the City and County. The Center will be located at 707 Broadway Street.

In October 2001, two additional neighborhood prosecutors were added to the City Attorney's Neighborhood Prosecution Unit to work in partnership with the San Diego Police Department and the community to aggressively and creatively combat crimes that impact the quality of life. Currently, five Deputy City Attorneys work in San Diego neighborhoods. They attend community meetings to listen to citizen concerns, and then develop and implement innovative strategies to reduce and prevent quality-of-life crime, such as drug activity, prostitution, and transient crimes.

In 2001, the Criminal Division received two significant grants. The Neighborhood Prosecution Unit received a grant of $150,000 to fund a Neighborhood Prosecutor to work in the downtown area. This is the third grant received from the U.S. Department of Justice for the City Attorney's work in community prosecution. In partnership with the San Diego Police Department, the City also received a $150,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Justice, Office of Community Oriented Policing Services to add two San Diego Police Officers to the Neighborhood Prosecution Unit.

The City Attorney is a charter member of the Computer and Technology Crime High Tech Response Team (CATCH), the local multi-jurisdictional task force formed to prosecute computer crime. In 2001, the City Attorney's Office was the first to prosecute fraud and theft committed on eBay, the popular Internet auction site. The defendant was convicted, ordered to serve a one year jail sentence, and pay restitution to several victims who never received promised merchandise or refunds.

In October 2001, City Councilmember Brian Maienschein and City Attorney Casey Gwinn unveiled an innovative juvenile diversion program designed to allow first time, non-violent juvenile offenders to participate in a binding sentencing hearing that is administered by a jury of their peers. More than 2,000 students have participated in the program.

The City Attorney's Office, in partnership with City Access Television and the San Diego Police Department, produced a documentary on illegal street racing in San Diego entitled "Beyond the Limit: Curbing Street Racing in San Diego." The program explores those who are involved in illegal street racing, individuals who are affected, and what positive community solutions are being developed to stop this dangerous and illegal activity.

Future Outlook

The City Attorney's Leadership Team has identified three long-range goals:

Implement the Family Justice Center which will unite personnel from the San Diego Police Department and the City Attorney's Office in one location to provide victim support services, including social workers, medical professionals, children's advocates, and other resources needed to address child abuse and domestic violence.

Expand the Neighborhood Prosecution Initiative by pursuing misdemeanor diversion programs, identifying additional liaison deputies for every community in San Diego, aggressively pursuing grant funding, and implementing a community court.

Continue to provide early review, advice and assistance to City departments in avoiding legal difficulties.
